Central Florida

READINGPALS

More than 50% of children entering kindergarten in Polk County are not fully prepared for school and 58% of third graders in Polk County failed the state reading test.

Early intervention and individualized attention gives students the best likelihood for success.

ReadingPals volunteers read with kindergarten children in Polk County Public Schools for one hour, one day a week using a program designed to enhance literacy skills that kindergarteners need to master.

Make a difference in a child's life by volunteering today.
